Dear Parents and Carers,

I am writing to introduce myself as the Interim Headteacher at Queen Elizabeth's school. It is with great enthusiasm and dedication that I step into this role just before the Easter break.

First and foremost, I want to express my commitment to fostering open and transparent communication with all parents and guardians. I firmly believe that strong partnerships between home and school are essential for the wider development and academic success of our students. As such, I encourage you to reach out to me with any questions, concerns, or feedback you may have. Your input is invaluable as we work together to create the best possible learning environment for our children. You will find my direct email address at the end of this email. You will also find our first edition of QENews with more information about our school.

I also recognise the importance of consistency in teaching and learning experiences. Consistency not only promotes student engagement and progress but also provides a sense of stability and structure within the school community. Rest assured, I am fully dedicated to ensuring that all students receive high-quality education and support consistently across all classrooms.

Furthermore, I want to reassure you that we are dedicated to preparing our Year 11 and Year 13 students for their upcoming exams. We understand the significance of these exams in shaping their future paths, and we are committed to providing them with the necessary guidance, resources, and support to excel in their studies and achieve their full potential.

While I understand that our school is currently on a journey of improvement, I am confident that, with collective effort and collaboration, we can overcome any challenges we may face. I recognise that there are real strengths across the school, including many excellent teachers, our sixth form and curriculum for life 'C4L' programme. Together, we will strive for excellence and work tirelessly to provide every student with the opportunity to thrive academically, socially and emotionally.

In the coming months, I look forward to meeting each and every one of you. Together, we will make a positive difference in the lives of our students and in the future of our school.

Thank you for your warm welcome and continued support. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Warm regards,

Brian Boyes
